

Tax Office

Zero – Tolerance/Abuse Violence Policy

Individuals who come to the Tax Office to make payment or obtain tax information will be treated professionally and respectfully by employees of the Tax Office. Likewise, we expect similar treatment from those who come to our office for assistance. To that end, we have adopted a zero – tolerance policy for abuse or violence.

Safety and security of the Tax Office employees and taxpayers is very important to this department. Threats, exhibiting threatening behavior, acts of violence, directing foul or abusive language verbally or in writing, against anyone in the Tax Office or the members of the public will not be tolerated. Any person exhibiting threatening behavior, or directing foul or abusive language to either employees or members of the public will be removed from the premises as quickly and safely as is permitted and will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Patricia Kratochvil, CCMC

Tax Collector